DECISION

30 Statement of the Case

LANA H. PARKE, Administrative Law Judge. This case was tried in Las Vegas, Nevada on January 13 through 17, and 21, 2003 as to Respondents Local Union 1827, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners Of America, Local Union 1506, United Brotherhood of 35 Carpenters and Joiners Of America, Local Union 209, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (Respondent Local 1827, Respondent Local 1506, Respondent Local 209, respectively and Respondent Locals, collectively), and by stipulation of facts submitted March 5, 2003, as to Respondent Mountain West Regional Council of Carpenters (Respondent Mountain West Carpenters; all respondents being referred to collectively as Respondent Unions.).1 40 Pursuant to charges filed by United Parcel Service, Inc. (UPS) against Respondent Local 1827; Eliason & Knuth of Arizona, Inc. (E&K, AZ), Associated General Contractors of America San Diego Chapter, Inc. (San Diego AGC), and Today's IV, Inc. d/b/a Westin Bonaventure Hotel and Suites (Westin Bonaventure) against Respondent Local 1506; King's Hawaiian Retail, Inc. d/b/a King's Hawaiian Restaurant and Bakery (King's Hawaiian) against Respondent Local 209; and 45 Eliason & Knuth of Denver, Inc. (E&K, Denver) against Respondent Mountain West Carpenters, the Regional Director of Region 28 of the National Labor Relations Board (the Board) issued an Order Consolidating Cases, Consolidated Complaint and Notice of Hearing (the first complaint) on November 19. On November 29, the Regional Director of Region 28 amended the first complaint.² Pursuant to charges filed by E&K, Denver, the Regional Director of Region 27 of the Board issued a Complaint and Notice of Hearing (the second complaint) on January 3, 2003. By order dated January 24, 2003, I granted the General Counsel's motion to consolidate the second complaint with the first complaint. The first complaint alleges that Respondents Local 1827, Local 1506, and Local 209 have violated Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the National Labor Relations Act (the Act). The second complaint alleges that Respondent Mountain West Carpenters has violated Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act.

Issues

5

1. Did Respondent Local Union 1827 threaten, coerce, or restrain persons engaged in commerce or industries affecting commerce in violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act by displaying banners (herein called bannering) directed at neutral employers at secondary sites in Las Vegas, Nevada, in furtherance of its labor dispute with Corsair Conveyor Corporation (Corsair)?

15

20

25

4. Did Respondent Mountain West Carpenters threaten, coerce, or restrain persons engaged in commerce or industries affecting commerce in violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act by bannering directed at neutral employers at secondary sites in Colorado, in furtherance of its dispute with E&K, Denver?

30

5. Is the General Counsel estopped from alleging that Respondent Unions' conduct violates Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act because of the issuance of United Brotherhood of Carpenters (Best Interiors), 1997 WL 7314444 (Advice Memo March 13, 1997) and Rocky Mountain Regional Conference of Carpenters (Standard Drywall), 2000 WL 1741630 (Advice Memo April 3, 2000)?

35

On the entire record and after considering the briefs filed by the General Counsel, the Charging Parties E&K, AZ, E&K, Denver, UPS, and AGC, Respondent Locals, and Respondent Mountain West Carpenters. I make the following

40

² The Amendments affected paragraph 9 (and subparagraphs) of the first complaint. Respondents Local 1827, Local 1506, and Local 209 denied the amended allegations at the hearing. At the hearing, the General Counsel amended the first complaint by adding the name of Doug McCarron (Mr. McCarron), general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America as an agent of Respondent Local 1506, and corrected certain information in paragraph 5(c). Respondent Local 1506 admitted the title but denied the agency of Mr. McCarron. Respondents Local 1827, Local 1506, and Local 209 also amended their answer at the hearing, admitting the allegations of paragraph 2, paragraphs 5(a)(1) through (3), 5(b)(1), 5(c)(1), 5(c)(3)[a] and [b], 5(c)(4) and (5), 5(d)(1), and 5(e)(1) of the first complaint.

Findings of Fact

I. Jurisdiction

The following corporations have, at all times material, been engaged in the following businesses under the following commercial circumstances during the representative 12-month or other period noted:

	LIDO		40 (1 : 1 !)
10	UPS	interstate transportation and delivery of parcels	12-month period ending August 30	derived gross revenues in excess of $50,000 from transportation of parcels in interstate commerce
15 20	E&K, AZ	contractor installing drywall, metal studs, and interior finishes in commercial and residential construction projects at various jobsites in Arizona	12-month period ending September 4	purchased and received at jobsites in Arizona, goods valued in excess of $50,000 directly from points outside the State of Arizona
25	Brady	contractor providing carpentry services for commercial construction projects	12-month period ending October 3, 2001	purchased and received at California jobsites goods valued in excess of $50,000 directly from points outside the State of California
30	Westin Bonaventure	operation of hotel properties	12-month period ending July 18	derived gross revenues in excess of $500,000 and purchased and received at its California facility goods valued in excess of $5,000 directly from points outside the State of California
35	King's Hawaiian	operation of a restaurant	12-month period ending May 2	derived gross revenues in excess of $500,000 and purchased and received at its Torrance, California facility goods valued in excess of $5,000 directly from other
40				enterprises located within the State of California, each of which had received the goods directly from points outside the State of California
45	E&K, Denver	contractor installing drywall, metal studs, and interior finishes in commercial and residential	Annually	purchased and received at jobsites in Colorado, goods, materials, and services valued in excess of $50,000 directly from points outside the State
50		construction projects at various jobsites in Colorado		of Colorado

Respondent Locals admit, and I find, that UPS, E&K, AZ, Brady, Westin Bonaventure, and King's Hawaiian have each, at all relevant times, been persons or employers engaged in commerce within the meaning of Sections 2(1), (2), (6), and (7) and 8(b)(4) of the Act and that Respondent Locals are labor organizations within the meaning of Section 2(5) of the Act.³

Respondent Mountain West Carpenters admits, and I find, that E&K, Denver has, at all relevant times, been a person or employer engaged in commerce within the meaning of Sections 2(1), (2), (6), and (7) and 8(b)(4) of the Act and that Respondent Mountain West Carpenters is a labor organization within the meaning of Section 2(5) of the Act. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters stipulates, and I find, that the following entities, engaged in the following businesses, have each, at all relevant times, been persons or employers engaged in commerce within the meaning of Sections 2(1), (2), (6), and (7) and 8(b)(4) of the Act: State Farm Mutual Insurance Company and State Farm Fire and Casualty Company (State Farm) engaged in the sale of insurance and related products; the University of Colorado (UC), a public institution of higher learning with a UC Health Science Center located in Denver, Colorado; Legacy Partners Real Estate Development, Legacy Residential, and Legacy Residential Construction Company (collectively, Legacy) engaged in the development, construction, and management of real property.

II. Alleged Unfair Labor Practices

The complaint alleges that in furtherance of the following labor disputes existing among Respondent Unions and the employers named below, Respondent Unions engaged in secondary activity at various locations in Arizona, California, Colorado, and Nevada in violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act:

Respondent Union	Primary Employer
Respondent Local 1827	Corsair (Las Vegas, Nevada)
Respondent Local 1506	E&K, AZ (Phoenix, Arizona)
	Brady (San Diego, California)
	Precision (Los Angeles, California)
Respondent Local 209	Cuthers (Torrance, California)
Respondent Mountain West Carpenters	E&K, Denver (Denver, Colorado)

Respondent Locals and the General Counsel stipulated that Respondent Locals conducted the bannering activity described below in reliance on the Board's Division of Advice memorandum in United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Carpenters Local Union No. 1506 (Best Interiors), Case 21-CC-3234.

³ Where not otherwise noted, the findings herein are based on the pleadings, the stipulations of counsel, and/or unchallenged credible evidence.

In the course of Respondents' bannering activity described below, none of Respondents' agents carried or displayed traditional picket signs, 4 patrolled, 5 blocked ingress or egress to any site, or made any threats to employees or customers at any site.

1. The labor dispute between Respondent Local 1827 and Corsair

UPS maintains parcel-distribution facilities at 335 East Arby Road (South Building) and 740 North Martin Luther King Boulevard (North Building), Las Vegas, Nevada. The facilities are twelve to fourteen miles apart and include service to the general public. Respondent Local Union 1827 has not, at any material time, been engaged in a labor dispute with UPS. In connection with a South Building expansion project, UPS contracted with Corsair, a construction company specializing in the installation of conveyor systems, to install a conveyor system at the South Building commencing about August 22.6 Corsair performed no work at the North Building 15 during any relevant period. At all times relevant, UPS maintained several entrances at the South Building marked, respectively, "Reserved Gate...Corsair...." "UPS Gate," and "Neutral Gate." The UPS Gate was located about 80 feet from the Reserved Gate.

By email dated August 27, Mr. Kessler notified UPS, in part, as follows:

[The UPS South Building Project] is a real slap in the face of our members and their families. With the economy here in Vegas trying to rebound after the downturn of September 11th we can not sit by and watch UPS bring in an unlicensed out of state contractor paying far below area standards and using a large out of state work force...we will be doing large display banners at many of your sites throughout the Vegas valley. We fully intend to inform the working men and women of Southern Nevada about the way in which UPS chooses to do business here in the area.

2. The UPS South Building Project

a. The UPS banners and handbills

Beginning August 29, Respondent Local 1827 established and maintained banners at the "UPS Gate" of the South Building facing Arby Road and at the North Building at the UPS entrance facing Bonanza Street, both heavily traveled roads. No banner was established at the South Building entrance reserved for Corsair. The union conducted the bannering Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the South Building but less frequently at the North ⁴ Traditional picketing involves individuals patrolling while carrying placards attached to sticks. United Mine Workers of America, District 2 (Jeddo Coal Company), 334 NLRB No. 86 (2001).

⁵ Justice Black described "patrolling" as encompassing "standing or marching back and forth or round and round ... generally adjacent to someone else's premises" N.L.R.B. v. Fruit and Vegetable Packers & Warehousemen Local 760 (Tree Fruits), 377 U.S. 58 at 77 (concurring opinion.)

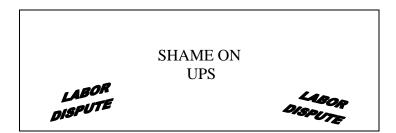

⁶ UPS had originally contracted with a company named DAVCO to install the conveyor system. UPS replaced DAVCO with Corsair because DAVCO was not Nevada-licensed.

⁷ Corsair's name was added to the Reserved Gate sign on August 22, and UPS so notified Respondent Local 1827 by telegram. No one contends that this reserved gate was not validly established and maintained.

Building. The banners measured approximately fifteen by four feet. In the bottom corner of each banner the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in gold ovals on a brown background, easily discernible from the street, and larger gold letters spanning the breadth of the banner identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

Individuals maintaining the banners passed out two different handbills. One handbill featured a drawing of a UPS delivery truck with "SHAME ON UPS LABOR written on its side, requested the public to contact the UPS, and otherwise read as follows:

STOP! UNDERMINING AREA STANDARDS!

WHAT IS THE BIGGEST MISTAKE UPS HAS MADE?

MISTAKE #1 – UPS chose an out of state and unlicensed contractor who UNDERMINES NEVADA AREA STANDARDS FOR WAGES AND BENEFITS!

MISTAKE #2 – UPS entered into a contract with DAVCO INC. OF TENNESSEE to install the conveyor systems at the new UPS South Facility on Arby Road. However, DAVCO WAS NOT THEN and is NOT NOW LICENSED to do work in NEVADA and paid their workers substandard wages!

MISTAKE #3 – UPS REPRESENTATIVE, JEFF HALL, purposely avoided all attempts made by MILLWRIGHTS LOCAL #1827 REPRESENTATIVES TO DISCUSS THIS PROBLEM. The result was, that both UPS AND DAVCO were SERVED WITH a CEASE AND DESIST ORDER from the NEVADA CONTRACTORS BOARD INVESTIGATOR for using THE UNLICENSED CONTRACTOR DAVCO. Fourteen Workers REMOVED. SEE YA!

MISTAKE #4 – UPS REPRESENTATIVE, JEFF HALL, still didn't want to have any discussions with MILLWRIGHTS LOCAL #1827 Representatives. UPS chose CORSAIR CONVEYOR, who pays their workers 50%+ less than the area standards for [sic]

ASK UPS: WHO DO THEY DISCOUNT WORKERS WAGES BUT NOT PRICES?

b. Communications with UPS

On August 29, Robert Lee Newell (Mr. Newell), UPS security representative, spoke to Charles Kessler (Mr. Kessler), business representative/financial Secretary of Respondent Local 1827, at the South Building banner. Mr. Newell asked Mr. Kessler why the union was there.
Mr. Kessler said, "We're tired of UPS doing this, hiring non-union employees." According to Mr. Newell, Mr. Kessler said Local 1827 planned to start picketing the entire Desert Mountain district and that future picketing would include Mailboxes Et Cetera, retail shipping outlets for UPS. Mr. Kessler denied saying that Respondent Local 1827 would "picket" UPS. Although I found Mr. Newell to be a credible witness, I credit Mr. Kessler as to the "picket" statement. I note that the bannering campaign was carefully planned, that Mr. Kessler's pre-bannering emails to UPS spoke in terms of consumer information and "bannering activity." Although Mr. Newell clearly considered the activity to constitute picketing, I find it unlikely that Mr. Kessler would have termed it so. 8

⁸ UPS employee Rick Gallegos also thought the activity was a picket line, and some UPS customers at the South Building asked, "Why are these guys picketing?"

On the same day, Mr. Newell told James Sala (Mr. Sala), director of organizing for Respondent Local 1827, that the "picketing" should be conducted at the construction gate. Mr. Sala said, "We're not picketing. We are handing out handbills." Mr. Sala told Mr. Newell the union would be there as long as they felt necessary to deliver the message to the consumers.⁹

In early September after the establishment of the banner, Mr. Kessler sent two union members to the jobsite to solicit employment from Corsair. The members reported to him that Corsair offered them $14 an hour for 50 hours work per week, terms substantially less than the wage rate prevailing under the current Carpenters master agreement. Later, a Corsair employee told Mr. Kessler that all Corsair employees were nonunion.

By email dated September 19, Mr. Kessler informed UPS, in part, as follows:

[In the next few weeks]...we are taking our message all over the valley...to Mail Boxes etc. and...Postnet centers. We are also putting together a letter to over 500 companies, contractors, and venders and other friends of labor in Southern Nevada letting them know what UPS is doing at your South Facility...[I]t is very unfortunate that this type of action must take place, we have always been a part of your work force here in Las Vegas when UPS has expanded. But make no mistake we will not sit by and watch UPS undermine the area standards. We will do everything we can to have our message heard for as long as it takes...again I ask if we can sit down and meet with your people and see if there is something we can do.

20

B. Conduct of Respondent Local 1506

25

At all times material hereto, Respondent Local 1506 has been engaged in labor disputes with E&K, AZ, Brady, and Precision.¹⁰

1. Labor dispute between Respondent Local 1506 and E&K, AZ

30

At relevant times, Alan Cahill (Mr. Cahill) served as the Director Of Special Projects for the Southwest Regional Council of Carpenters, State of Arizona (Council). Beginning in 2001, he and his staff conducted an investigation of E&K, AZ through employee interviews, internet research, and inquiry of other contractors and union agents. Based on the investigation, the Council concluded that E&K, AZ did not pay prevailing wages and/or benefits to its employees.

On January 7, representatives of Respondent Local 1506, Mr. Cahill and Cris Westmoreland, met with Todd Bennett (Mr. Bennett), president of E&K, AZ. The two representatives explained the benefits of entering into a Carpenters Union labor agreement. Mr. Bennett said that E&K, AZ was not interested.

⁹ Mr. Sala admitted that his account of this conversation set forth in an affidavit given to the Board during investigation of the charges did not include any mention of delivering a message to consumers. Nevertheless, I found Mr. Sala to be a credible witness, and I accept his testimony.

¹⁰ Precision is a California corporation engaged in the construction industry as a general contractor specializing in hotel renovations.

By letters dated August 28, Respondent Local 1506 sent notices of its labor dispute with E&K, AZ to Griffin and Double AA Builders (Double AA), stating that E&K, AZ did not pay area standard wages and health care, and asking that the companies not allow E&K, AZ to perform work on any projects.¹¹ The letters to Griffin and Double AA further stated, inter alia:

We want you to be aware that our lawful, but aggressive public information campaign against [E&K, AZ] encompasses all parties associated with projects where [E&K, AZ] are employed. That campaign includes highly visible banner displays and distribution of handbills at the jobsite and premises of property owners, developers, general contractors, and other firms involved with projects where [E&K, AZ] are employed. We certainly prefer to work cooperatively with all involved parties rather than to have an adversarial relationship with them...[Not allowing E&K, AZ to work on your projects] will provide the greatest protection against your firm becoming publicly involved in this dispute...

Thereafter, in furtherance of its dispute with E&K, AZ, Respondent Local 1506 established banners at numerous locations in Arizona including those described below. On about September 4, after the bannering at E&K, AZ jobsites commenced, Mr. Bennett telephoned Mr. Cahill to request a meeting. Mr. Cahill faxed a letter dated September 4, to Mr. Bennett set forth in pertinent part:

25

You and I have spoken and scheduled a meeting to discuss labor relations matters. Before we meet I would like to establish for the record, that neither I nor anyone else acting on behalf of the Carpenters Union, has asked that you enter into any Collective Bargaining Agreement with the Union, or that you recognize the Union as the Collective Bargaining representative of any of your employees...The Carpenters Union does not seek representation of your employees, and the purpose of any meetings that we may have is not to seek or pursue that objective.

2. The Artisan Homes Lofts Project

a. The contractual relationships

Artisan Homes, Inc. (Artisan Homes), real estate developer, engaged Westpac Communities, Inc. (Westpac) as general contractor for construction of condominiums in Phoenix, Arizona known as "The Lofts on Central" (the Lofts Project). Westpac subcontracted, inter alios, with E&K, AZ to perform drywall and interior painting services at the project commencing September 23.

40

b. The Artisan Homes banner and handbills

Beginning mid-August, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner at the Lofts Project facing Central Avenue, a location adjacent to the main office of Artisan Homes. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported the banner. The banner measured approximately fifteen by four feet. In each upper corner of the banner the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in black letters, easily discernible from the street, and larger red letters spanning the breadth of the banner identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

¹¹ Respondent Local 1506 directed similar letters to other contractors. A business document of Respondent Local 1506 entitled "Owners & Contractors who received letter regarding [E&K, AZ] lists seventy-three recipient companies, including Griffin and Double AA.

SHAME ON ARTISAN HOMES, INC.

Individuals maintaining the banner passed out handbills. The handbills featured a large drawing of a rat gnawing on an American flag, requested the public to contact the company and urge adherence to area labor standards, and otherwise read:

15

SHAME ON ARTISAN HOMES! FOR DESECRATION OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

20

A rat is a contractor that does not pay all of its employees standard wages, including either providing or making payments for health care. Employees who work for a rate contractor are also rats.

25

Westpac Construction has been hired by Artisan Homes to construct their new lofts...Westpac has contracted with [E&K, AZ] to do the drywall work on that project. [E&K, AZ] does not meet area labor standards for that work. It does not pay area standard wages to all its carpenter-craft employees, including payments for family health care.

30

Carpenters Local 1506 objects to substandard employers like [E&K, AZ] working in the community. In our opinion the community ends up paying the tab for employee health care and low wages tend to lower general community standards, thereby encouraging crime and other social ills. Carpenters Local 1506 believes that Artisan Homes has an obligation to the community to see that contractors who perform work on buildings they construct, own, occupy or lease, meet area labor standards. They should not be allowed to insulate themselves behind "independent" contractors.

35

We are not urging any worker to refuse to work nor are we urging any supplier to refuse to deliver goods.

40

When the bannering began, Eric C. Brown (Mr. Brown), president of Artisan Homes, telephoned Mr. Cahill and pointed out that Artisan Homes was not the builder on the job. Mr. Cahill said, "You're the developer, it's your property, you're responsible for this." In a later conversation with Mr. Cahill at the banner location, Mr. Brown told Mr. Cahill, "If you're telling me that you want me to change things, you've never given me any kind of information on what the area standard wages are." Mr. Cahill said, "Well, maybe I'll just give you a call." After that, Mr. Brown never heard from any representative of the Union.

On September 19, Westpac established a valid reserved gate at the at the back of the Lofts Project for employees and suppliers of E&K, AZ. Respondent Local 1506 continued to display the banner at the front of the project facing Central Avenue, a distance approximately 250 feet from the reserved gate until October 18.¹³

3. The Harkins Project

a. The contractual relationships

Harkins Amusement Enterprises, Inc. (Harkins) engaged Double AA as general contractor for construction of a movie theater in Avondale, Arizona, a town West of Phoenix (the Harkins Project). Double AA subcontracted, inter alios, with E&K, AZ to perform drywall, metal stud and finishing services at the project, which E&K, AZ completed in November.

b. The Harkins banners and handbills

Beginning September 4, September 10 and September 18, respectively, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained banners at a Harkins theater on 19th Avenue in Phoenix, Arizona (Christown Theatre), located approximately 30 miles from the Harkins project, at North Valley Theatre on Bell Road in Phoenix, and at the Harkins Theater corporate offices located on McDonald Road in Scottsdale, Arizona. E&K, AZ neither performed work nor was scheduled to perform work at the Harkins theaters in Phoenix or at the Harkins corporate offices in Scottsdale. The approximately fifteen by four feet banners, supported by portable frameworks of PVC pipe, faced busy multi-lane streets. In each upper corner the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in easily-discernible black letters, and larger red letters spanning the breadth of the banners identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

LABOR DISPUTE SHAME ON HARKINS THEATERS

¹² While Mr. Brown and Mr. Cahill were in fundamental agreement as to the substance of their conversations, Mr. Brown's testimony differed somewhat from Mr. Cahill's account on this point. Mr. Brown testified, essentially, that Mr. Cahill told him if he did not use E&K, AZ, the problem would go away. As to this aspect of the conversation, I credit Mr. Cahill.

¹³ The General Counsel and Respondent Locals stipulated that banner displays continued at all locations as described herein until October 18. Other evidence suggests that the date may be an approximate one, but exactitude is not material on that point.

Handbills distributed at the bannering site featured a large drawing of a rat gnawing on an American flag, asked the public to urge the company to adhere to area labor standards, and otherwise read:

SHAME ON HARKINS THEATERS!

FOR DESECRATION OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

A rat is a contractor that does not pay all of its employees standard wages, including either providing or making payments for health care. Employees who work for a rat contractor are also rats.

15

[Double AA] has been hired by Harkins Theaters to construct their new theatres located at 99th Ave. and McDowell Rd., in Avondale. Double AA has contracted with [E&K, AZ] to do the drywall work on that project. [E&K, AZ] does not meet area labor standards for that work. It does not pay area standard wages to all its carpenter-craft employees, including payments for family health care.

20

Carpenters Local 1506 objects to substandard employers like [E&K, AZ] working in the community. In our opinion the community ends up paying the tab for employee health care and low wages tend to lower general community standards, thereby encouraging crime and other social ills. Carpenters Local 1506 believes that Harkins Theaters has an obligation to the community to see that contractors who perform work on buildings they construct, own, occupy or lease, meet area labor standards. They should not be allowed to insulate themselves behind "independent" contractors.

25

On September 10, at the Harkins corporate office location, Michael Ostwinkle (Mr. Ostwinkle), production manager of E&K, AZ spoke to Mr. Cahill by telephone and asked for a meeting to discuss the allegations on the handbills. Mr. Cahill refused. Mr. Ostwinkle also spoke to Eddie Kasprzycki (Mr. Kasprzycki), special representative of the Southwest Regional Council of Carpenters who stood at the banner. When Mr. Ostwinkle asked him if the banners would go away if E&K, AZ paid its employees $20.17 an hour, Mr. Kasprzycki said, "I don't know, maybe if you'd just join the union maybe this whole thing would go away."

News reports of the above activity described it as picketing. Because of the bannering and handbilling, Harkins Theaters suggested to Double AA that it replace E&K, AZ on the projects.

4. The Vanguard Health Systems West Valley Hospital Project

40

a. The contractual relationships

45

Vanguard Health Systems, Inc. (Vanguard), which operates hospitals in the Phoenix area, engaged Dunn Southeast d/b/a R.J. Griffin and Company (R.J. Griffin) as the general contractor for the construction of a hospital in Goodyear, Arizona (West Valley Hospital). R.J. Griffin subcontracted with E&K, AZ, inter alios, to perform construction services at the project commencing September 1.

b. The Vanguard banners and handbills

Beginning September 4, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained banners facing busy multi-lane streets at Phoenix Memorial Hospital and Phoenix Baptist Hospital both located in Phoenix, Arizona, and Arrowhead Community Hospital located in Glendale, Arizona. Respondent Local 1506 established no banner at the West Valley Hospital Project. E&K, AZ neither performed work nor was scheduled to perform work at phoenix Memorial Hospital, Phoenix Baptist Hospital, or Arrowhead Community Hospital. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported the banners at each location. The banners measured approximately fifteen by four feet. In each upper corner of the banners the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in black letters, easily-discernible from the street, and larger red letters spanning the breadth of the banners identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

LABOR DISPUTE SHAME ON VANGUARD HEALTH SYSTEMS

Handbills distributed at Phoenix Memorial Hospital, Phoenix Baptist Hospital, and Arrowhead Community Hospital were identical. They featured a large drawing of a rat gnawing on an American flag, requested the public to contact the company and urge adherence to area labor standards, and otherwise read:

SHAME ON
VANGUARD HEALTH SYSTEMS!
FOR DESECRATION
OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

A rat is a contractor that does not pay all of its employees standard wages, including either providing or making payments for health care. Employees who work for a rate contractor are also rats.

R J Griffin & Company has been hired by VANGUARD HEALTH SYSTEMS to construct their new facility, the West Valley Hospital, in Goodyear, Arizona. [E&K, AZ] has been hired by R J Griffin to do the metal stud drywall work on that project. [E&K, AZ] does not meet area labor standards for that work. It does not pay area standard wages to all its carpenter-craft employees, including payments for family health care.

Carpenters Local 1506 objects to substandard employers like [E&K, AZ] working in the community. In our opinion the community ends up paying the tab for employee health care and low wages tend to lower general community standards, thereby encouraging crime and other social ills. Carpenters Local 1506 believes that Vanguard Health Systems has an obligation to the community to see that contractors who perform work on buildings they construct, own, occupy or lease, meet area labor standards. They should not be allowed to insulate themselves behind "independent" contractors.

5. Labor dispute between Respondent Local 1506 and Brady

Brady is a non-union contractor doing construction work in the San Diego area. In 1997 or 1998 Mike Magallenes, Respondent Local 1506 business representative, contacted Scott Brady and asked him to enter into collective-bargaining negotiations with Local 1506 on behalf of Brady. Nothing came of the request.

During 2000/2001, and prior to the start of bannering, Mr. Thornhill and his staff conducted an investigation of Brady's wages and benefits by questioning Brady employees. Based on the information thus obtained, Respondent Local 1506 concluded that Brady did not pay prevailing wages and/or benefits to its employees. A Summer 2000 carpenters union newsletter printed a purported Brady paycheck statement and stated, essentially, that only a union contract could protect carpenters' wages and benefits.

By letters dated as set forth to the following construction companies, Respondent Local 1506 informed them that the union had an "area standards" dispute with Brady and intended "lawfully [to] protest and demonstrate against [Brady at] any of your jobsites employing [Brady]," asking that the companies not contract with Brady until Brady met area standards:

20	Date	Company

	May 9, 2001	Reno Contracting, Inc. (Reno), Bilbro, and Blake
	-	Construction Co.

30

15

By letters dated July 18, 2001 and December 13, 2002, respectively, Respondent Local 1506 informed Clark and CYMER and other area contractors that the union had an "area standards" dispute with Brady and asked the companies not to allow Brady to perform any work on any project unless Brady met area labor standards for all of its carpentry craft work, stating further:

35

We want you to be aware that our lawful but aggressive public information campaign against [Brady] encompasses all parties associated with projects where [Brady] is employed. That campaign includes highly visible banner displays and distribution of handbills at the jobsite and premises of property owners, developers, general contractors, and other firms involved with projects where [Brady] is employed. We certainly prefer to work cooperatively with all involved parties rather than to have an adversarial relationship with them.¹⁴

40

In connection with its dispute with Brady, over the last two and a half years, Respondent Local 1506 bannered at 50 to 60 properties in a manner similar to the activity detailed below. The bannering stopped in 2002 for a period of about three months from February to about May 29, during which hiatus Scott Brady met with Douglas McCarron (Mr. McCarron), general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America and brother of Respondent Local 1506's president, at a restaurant in La Mesa, California. In the course of that meeting, Mr. McCarron asked Scott Brady to consider collective bargaining negotiations with Respondent Local 1506. Scott Brady asked how that would benefit Brady. Mr. McCarron explained the union's wage and benefit package. Scott Brady said that the package was equal to what the company currently paid and that neither he nor his employees would benefit from it. Mr. McCarron said that the company could have the benefit of peace and protection: peace being an absence of bannering and picketing, an absence of letters, an absence of union agents going to job sites to talk to Brady employees, and protection being the union's effort to attack any non-union competitors just as Brady was then being attacked. Scott Brady did not agree to negotiate.

Respondent Local 1506 denies that Mr. McCarron acted as its agent in this conversation. Although no specific evidence other than Mr. McCarron's position with the union was adduced to show agency, I conclude that Mr. McCarron acted as Respondent Local 1506's agent in making the negotiation pitch. The Board noted in Longshoremen ILA (Coastal Stevedoring Co.) that, "when applied to labor relations... agency principles must be broadly construed in light of the legislative policies embedded in the Act."15 The Board applies the common law principles of agency when determining whether apparent authority is created: (1) there must be some manifestation by the principal to a third party, and (2) the third party must believe that the extent of the authority granted to the agent encompasses the contemplated activity. Pratt Towers, Inc., 338 NLRB No. 8, slip op. at 12 (2002). At the time of the conversation, Mr. McCarron served as the general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the organization with which Respondent Locals, including Respondent Local 1506, are affiliated. That affiliation is set forth by the terms of the master labor agreement to which Respondent Local 1506 is a party, as is the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. Mr. McCarron's position as president of the presumably governing body of Respondent Local 1506 constitutes a manifestation that he possesses authority to act for affiliates of that governing body, and Scott Brady accepted that authority in discussing possible collective bargaining with Respondent Local 1506. Accordingly, Mr. McCarron's request that Scott Brady negotiate with Respondent Local 1506 may be considered as evidence of Respondent Local 1506's intent and purpose.

6. Project at Reno offices on Frazee Road, San Diego

a. The contractual relationships

Brady performed construction work for Reno at its offices located on Frazee Road in San Diego, California, beginning in early 2000 and completing the work in about December 2000.

b. The Reno banner and handbilling

During the entire construction period and continuing (except for the hiatus mentioned above) until October 18, Respondent Local 1506 bannered at the Reno offices. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported the approximately fifteen by four feet banner. In each upper corner of the banner the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in black letters, easily discernible from the busy Frazee Road, and larger red letters spanning the breadth of the banners identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

¹⁵ 313 NLRB 412, 415 (1933), remanded 56 F.3d 205 (D.C. Cir. 1995), stating further at 417, "Courts have concluded that under the NLRA, agency principles must be expansively construed, including when questions of union responsibility are presented. [citations omitted]"

Individuals maintaining the banner passed out handbills. The handbills featured a large drawing of a rat gnawing on an American flag, requested the public to contact the respective company and urge adherence to area labor standards, and otherwise read as follows:

7. The Valley Center Project

a. The contractual relationships

Kilroy Realty Corporation (Kilroy Realty), Prentiss Properties Acquisition Partners, LP (Prentiss), and Peregrine Systems, Inc. (Peregrine) engaged Reno as the general contractor for new construction and tenancy improvement work at office buildings located on Valley Center Drive in San Diego, California (Valley Center Project). Morrison & Foerster, law office, was a tenant at the property. Reno subcontracted, inter alios, with Brady to perform construction services at the project commencing in December 1999.

b. The Prentiss Properties, Peregrine, Morrison & Foerster, and Kilroy Realty banners and handbills

During the time Brady performed construction work at the Valley Center project, and for about six months after Brady completed work, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained four banners there. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported each banner, which measured approximately fifteen by four feet. In each upper corner of the banners the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in black letters, easily-discernible from the street, and larger red letters spanning the breadth of the banners identified the targeted company, each banner appearing essentially as follows:

 ¹⁶ No Prentiss Properties banner photograph was introduced. However, Scott Brady described the banner as being identical to the other three banners at this project except for the name Prentiss Properties. Although the transcript spells this company's name "Prentice," it appears from the pleadings and other documents that the correct spelling is "Prentiss."

The banners faced streets of moderate to heavy traffic. Individuals maintaining the banners passed out handbills. The handbills were identical except for wording specifically identifying each company named above and jobsite information, if applicable. Respectively, the handbills bore the name of only one targeted company.¹⁷ Each requested the public to contact the respective company and urge adherence to area labor standards, and otherwise read as follows:

b. The Diversa banner and handbills

Beginning in late 2000, and continuing for nine to ten months after Brady had concluded work there, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner at the end of a Freeway 805 off ramp adjacent to the side street, Director's Place. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported the banner, which measured approximately fifteen by four feet. Roel subcontracted, inter alios, with Brady to perform stud framing and drywall finishing construction services at the project commencing in 2000. Brady concluded that work in December 2000.

b. The Sempra banner and handbills

Beginning October 2, 2000, and continuing for about a year after Brady had concluded work there, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner at the Sempra property. Brady commenced the work in about July 2000 and concluded it in November 2001.

b. The Sycuan Casino banner and handbills

While Brady performed the above-described work, and continuing for about two months thereafter, Respondent Local 1506 bannered on a road leading to the above property. b. The Sharp Hospital banner and handbills

During the period Brady worked at the Sharp Memorial Project, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner there two to five days a week from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. A portable framework of PVC pipe supported the approximately fifteen by four foot banner. The words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in black letters in the upper corners of the banner. Larger red letters identified the targeted company, the entire banner appearing essentially as follows:

SHAME ON SHARP HOSPITAL

LABOR DISPUTE

25

Handbills distributed at the Sharp Memorial Project were identical to those distributed at Grossmont Hospital except that the names of the general contractor and the hospital were those relevant to the Sharp Memorial jobsite: Dillingham and Sharp Memorial.

35

a. The contractual relationships

Manchester Resorts, LP (Manchester Resorts) owns the Manchester Grand Hyatt Hotel (Grand Hyatt) located on One Market Plaza in San Diego, California. Manchester Resorts also has a minority (ten-percent) interest in the San Diego Convention Marriott (Marriott) in downtown San Diego. Doug Manchester is chairman of the board directors, Manchester Resorts. Hyatt Hotels Corporation, a management company, operates the Grand Hyatt.

40

Hyatt Hotels Corporation also operates the Hyatt Regency Islandia (Hyatt Islandia), a resort hotel on Quivira Road in San Diego, California about fifteen miles from the Grand Hyatt. The Hyatt Islandia is owned by Islandia Associates, a Los Angeles-based limited partnership. Islandia Associates has no ownership interest in the Grand Hyatt.

Commencing Spring 2001, Clark Construction, Inc. (Clark) served as general contractor for the construction of a new tower for the Grand Hyatt (Grand Hyatt Project). Clark 45 subcontracted with Brady, inter alios, to perform construction services at the Grand Hyatt Project. Brady performed no work at the Hyatt Islandia or the Marriott. During the relevant period, Respondent Local 1506 had a labor dispute with Brady. Respondent Local 1506 had no labor dispute with Manchester Resorts, Hyatt Hotels Corporation, Islandia Associates, or Hyatt Islandia. 50

b. The Hyatt and Doug Manchester banners and handbills

In August 2001, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained the following banners: (1) two banners at the Grand Hyatt displayed Monday through Friday, approximately 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and sometimes on Saturday, both facing the busy, multi-lane Harbor Drive, (2) two banners, respectively, at West Mission Bay Drive, the Hyatt Islandia's main entrance road, and at its front driveway,

In September 2001, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner at the Marriott facing Harbor Drive. The banner was displayed at least several times a week, approximately 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and sometimes on Saturday.

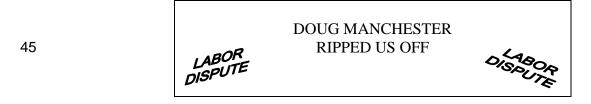

Portable frameworks of PVC pipe supported the above-described banners. Each banner measured approximately fifteen by four feet. At the Grand Hyatt, the words "LABOR DISPUTE" appeared in the bottom corners of one of banners and in the upper corners of the other. Larger letters spanning the breadth of each banner identified the targeted company, the banners appearing, respectively, as follows:

A rat is a contractor that does not pay all of its employees prevailing wages, including either providing or making payments for health care and pension benefits.

Shame on Doug Manchester for contributing to erosion of area standards for San Diego carpenter craft workers. Doug Manchester has effective control of the Hyatt Hotel located at One Market Place, San Diego. He also has effective control of the Marriott Hotel next to the Hyatt. We are not urging any worker to refuse to work nor are we urging any supplier to refuse to deliver goods.

In mid-September, Randy Thornhill (Mr. Thornhill), Respondent Local 1506's director of special operations, telephoned Perry Dealy (Mr. Dealy), Manchester's vice president of operations. Mr. Thornhill told Mr. Dealy that he could help solve Manchester's problem regarding the banners in front of the Grand Hyatt and the Marriott. He said that if Manchester replaced Brady with a union contractor, the union would pick up any cost difference, and the banners would go away immediately. Mr. Dealy said that Brady worked for Clark not Manchester and that Mr. Thornhill should call Clark directly.²¹

As a consequence of the bannering at the Hyatt Islandia, by letter dated September 10, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (Teamsters) cancelled reservations with the Hyatt Islandia for a convention scheduled for September 9 through 13, stating in part, "We learned...that Carpenters Local Union 1506 established a picket line in front of the [Hyatt Islandia]. Mr. Thornhill admitted telling Mr. Dealy the union "had contractors that could work on [the Grand Hyatt] project with no out-of-costs to [Manchester]," which is nearly corroborative of Mr. Dealy's

a. The contractual relationships

Tri Union Seafoods, LLC, d/b/a Chicken of the Sea (Chicken of the Sea) engaged Prevost Construction, Inc. (Prevost) as the general contractor to construct office space at a property located at Scranton Road and Mira Mesa Boulevard in San Diego, California (Chicken of the Sea Project). Prevost subcontracted, inter alios, with Brady to perform construction services at the project. Brady performed the work from April to October.

b. The Chicken of the Sea banner and handbills

Beginning in May, Respondent Local 1506 established and maintained a banner at the Chicken of the Sea Project facing Mira Mesa Boulevard. Portable frameworks of PVC pipe supported the banner. The banner measured approximately fifteen by four feet and appeared essentially as follows:

19. The Westin Bonaventure Project

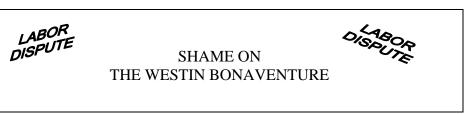

a. The contractual relationships

Westin Bonaventure engaged Precision as the general contractor to renovate approximately 400 guest rooms at the Westin Bonaventure Hotel on South Figueroa Street in Los Angeles, California (Bonaventure Project), from February through June.

Representatives of Respondent Local 1506 questioned some of Precision's employees about their wages and benefits. From their responses, Respondent Local 1506 concluded that Precision was not paying its employees the prevailing standard of wages and benefits.

b. The Westin Bonaventure banners and handbills

Beginning sometime in March through the first week of September, after Precision had completed its work, Respondent Local 1506 bannered at two street corners near the Westin Bonaventure Hotel: Flower Street and Fifth Street and Flower Street and Figueroa Street in downtown Los Angeles, California. The bannering occurred five days a week between the hours of 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Measuring approximately fifteen by four feet, the banners, easily discernible from the street, with black and red lettering, appeared essentially as follows:

One type of handbill passed out at the Westin Bonaventure featured a large drawing of a rat gnawing on an American flag, the other a sinister figure manipulating a marionette. Both handbills requested the public to contact the company and urge adherence to area labor standards, and otherwise read:

For Desecration of the American Way of Life

A rat is a contractor that does not pay all of its employees prevailing wages, including either providing or making payments for health care and pension benefits. Employees who work for a rate contractor are also rats.

The Westin Bonaventure has contracted with Precision Hotel Interiors to do the remodel work on several floors in Los Angeles. Precision Hotel Interiors does not meet area labor standards for that work – it does not pay prevailing wage to all its carpenter-craft employees, including payments for health care and pension.

Carpenters Local 1506 objects to substandard wage employers like Precision Hotel Interiors working in the community. In our opinion the community ends up paying the tab for employee health care and the low wages paid tend to lower general community standards, thereby encouraging crime and other social ills.

Carpenters Local 1506 believes that The Westin Bonaventure has an obligation to the community to see that contractors who perform work on their building meet area labor standards. They should not be allowed to insulate themselves behind "independent" contractors. For this reason Local 1506 has a labor dispute with all these companies.

We are not urging any worker to refuse to work nor are we urging any supplier to refuse to deliver goods.

By letter dated March 28, addressed to Martin Dahlquist, financial Secretary of Respondent Local 1506, Brian Fitzgerald, general manager of the Westin Bonaventure, requested that the union stop "picketing and leafleting" Westin Bonaventure in furtherance of its dispute with Precision.

By letter dated June 28, counsel for Westin Bonaventure notified Respondent Local 1506 that Precision had concluded its work at the hotel and was no longer present at the hotel. Respondent Local 1506 did not respond. The bannering at Westin Bonaventure continued.

C. Conduct of Respondent Local 209

1. The dispute between Respondent Local 209 and Cuthers

Saul C. Perez, business representative of Respondent Local 209, has, over the last two years, talked to seven to ten individuals he believed to be Cuthers' employees about their wages and benefits. Some of the individuals complained about low wages and one said he had no health insurance coverage. From this information, Respondent Local 209 concluded that Cuthers was not meeting prevailing standards in employee wages and benefits.

Taira Harbor Gateway, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Taira Real Estate Holdings, a real estate investment partnership (Taira) engaged Thermal CM Service (Thermal) as the general contractor for construction of building at a property located in Harbor Gateway in Los Angeles, California (King's Hawaiian Project). The anticipated tenant of the building was King's Hawaiian Bakery West, Incorporated, a manufacturing business separate and distinct from King's Hawaiian Restaurant. Thermal subcontracted, inter alios, with Cuthers to perform concrete construction services at the project commencing in 2000. At all times relevant hereto, Respondent Local 209 has been engaged in a labor dispute with Cuthers but not with King's Hawaiian, Taira, or Thermal.

b. The King's Hawaiian banner and handbill

Beginning May 1 through the first week of September, Respondent Local 209 bannered in front of King's Hawaiian Restaurant and Bakery facing Sepulveda Boulevard, Torrance, California, a six-lane, fast-traffic thoroughfare. The banner was present at that location Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Neither Cuthers nor any other entity performed construction work there during the bannering. The banner, supported by a portable framework of PVC pipe, measured approximately fifteen by four feet. On the first day of the bannering, King's Hawaiian's president, Mark Taira spoke to a banner holder who told him the activity had nothing to do with King's Hawaiian. Two days later, Mr. Taira complained to the same banner holder that the sign was misleading because it implied that King's Hawaiian had a labor dispute. The banner holder said such was intended. There is no evidence that the banner holder had any authority, implied or actual, to speak for Respondent Local 209, and I do not consider this testimony as bearing on Respondent Local 209's intent or purpose.

D. Conduct of Respondent Mountain West Carpenters

1. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters' labor dispute with E&K, Denver

35

40

At all relevant times, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters has been engaged in a labor dispute with E&K, Denver. At relevant times, State Farm, CU, and Legacy contracted with general construction contractors to perform work on respective construction projects. The general contractors, in turn, subcontracted with E&K, Denver to perform construction work on the projects. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters was not recognized or certified as the collective-bargaining representative of any employees employed by State Farm, CU, and Legacy, had neither demanded such recognition nor sought to organize such employees, and had no independent dispute with State Farm or its agents, CU or any of its subdivisions (including University of Colorado Health Sciences Center), or Legacy.

45

Shortly before any of the bannering described below took place, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters sent a form letter to various construction contractors, property owners, and other persons, including State Farm, CU, and Legacy, which informed them that Respondent Mountain West Carpenters had an ongoing labor dispute with E&K, Denver "because they do not meet area labor standards and they do not pay area standard wages to all carpentry craft employees, including providing or paying for family health care." The letter further read, in pertinent part, as follows:

...[W] are asking that you use your managerial discretion to not allow [E&K, Denver] to perform any work on any of your projects unless and until it generally meets area labor standards for all of its carpentry craft work.

We want you to be aware that our lawful, but aggressive public information campaign against [E&K, Denver] encompasses all parties associated with projects where [E&K, Denver] is employed. That campaign includes highly visible banner displays and distribution of handbills at the jobsite and premises of property owners, developers, general contractors, and other firms involved with projects where [E&K, Denver] is employed. We certainly prefer to work cooperatively with all involved parties rather than to have an adversarial relationship with them

In engaging in the conduct described below, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters relied on United Brotherhood of Carpenters (Best Interiors), 1997 WL 7314444 (Advice Memo March 13, 1997) and Rocky Mountain Regional Conference of Carpenters²² (Standard Drywall), 2000 WL 1741630 (Advice Memo April 3, 2000).

Portable frameworks of PVC pipe supported the banners, which measured approximately three by ten feet. Eleven inch red letters spanning the breadth of the banners identified the targeted company, the banner appearing essentially as follows:

The parties' stipulation of facts refers to the handbills as having been "distributed" and "available for distribution." I have assumed that all of the handbills described below were actually distributed at one or more of the sites.

On September 9 and 10, handbills distributed at the bannering site read, in pertinent part:

III. Discussion

A. Positions of the parties

10

15

20

25

30

35

40

45

The General Counsel and the charging parties assert that Respondent Unions violated Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) by (1) engaging in unlawful secondary picketing and (2) employing "fraudulent language" on the banners "so as to mislead the public into believing Respondents had a primary labor dispute with the neutrals named on the banners." As to the first contention, Counsel for the General Counsel argues that the bannering is picketing "plain and simple," inasmuch as the banners were posted near entrances to neutral employers' facilities, at locations highly visible to people seeking to do business with the neutrals, were overseen by union representatives, and as the bannering was accompanied by the "confrontational" conduct of distributing handbills pejorative of the neutral employer. As to the second contention, Counsel for the General Counsel argues that the banners, nearly all of which bore the words "labor dispute," failed to identify the primary employer and falsely implied that neutral employers were involved in labor disputes with one of Respondent Unions. The banners directed their appeals to people doing business with neutral employers. Since the conduct was directed at neutral companies and since it was picketing, it is proscribed by Section 8(b)(4) and unprotected by the First Amendment.

Respondent Locals initially assert the special defense that the General Counsel is estopped from alleging its conduct to have violated the Act because, in engaging in the conduct, they relied on various memoranda from the General Counsel's Division of Advice dealing with bannering conduct. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters, while conceding that advice memoranda do not constitute precedent, argues that the memoranda support its position that the bannering herein does not constitute conduct that violates the Act.

Respondent Unions argue that bannering is not tantamount to picketing but, as asserted by Respondent Locals, is "non-picketing, pure speech activities" falling within the protection elucidated in Edward J. DeBartolo Corp. v. Florida Gulf Coast Building and Construction Trades Council (DeBartolo II), 485 U.S. 568 (1988). In that case, the Supreme Court held that a union lawfully distributed handbills at a mall asking customers of neutral mall stores not to patronize the neutral stores until the mall owner promised that all construction done at the mall would be done with contractors who pay fair wages and fringe benefits. Since the union in DeBartolo II peacefully distributed handbills without any accompanying picketing or patrolling, it did not violate 8(b)(4). Respondent Unions argue that they distributed handbills at each location where bannering took place setting forth the facts of their disputes with primary employers who were not paying area standard wages and benefits and clearly explaining the exact relationship of all parties to the dispute. They point out that the constitution guarantees unions the right to publicize their disputes in a manner that does not constitute unlawful restraint or coercion, and the truth or falsity of such publicity is not material to the present issues. Moreover, Respondent Unions argue that they had legitimate labor disputes with the employers or persons targeted by their banners. They maintain, essentially, that the definition of labor dispute in Section 2(9) of the Act is broad enough to encompass their disputes with the neutrals.²⁵

²⁵ Section 2(9) of the Act states, "The term 'labor dispute' includes any controversy concerning terms, tenure, or conditions of employment, or concerning the association or representation of persons in negotiating, fixing, maintaining, changing, or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment, regardless of whether the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employee."

Respondent Unions maintain that the bannering cannot be coercive conduct as the unions engaged in no confrontational activity at any of the sites. Individuals in charge of the banners did not chant, yell, or call out to anyone, engage in any violence, march or patrol, physically block the ingress or egress of any person, or cause any work stoppage, cessation of deliveries or interruption of business. Since the General Counsel has failed to show that non-confrontational bannering at secondary employer sites constitutes the confrontational conduct required to show coercion, the bannering was not picketing. Asserting that the terms "patrol" and "confrontation" most commonly "describe... characteristics that distinguish picketing from non-picketing conduct," Respondent Locals argue that as no patrolling or confrontation beyond that necessary to deliver the message or "speech" was connected with the bannering, it cannot constitute picketing. Respondent Unions accordingly assert that bannering is entitled to the same protection afforded to handbilling by DeBartolo II.

In a somewhat alternate argument, Respondent Locals contend that the "Board's definitions of picketing, restraint and coercion are invalid." Respondent Locals maintain that what distinguishes picketing from "non-picketing activity is "the nature of the conduct at issue. It is not and cannot be the object of that conduct." Therefore, any definition that makes the object of conduct an element of the definition disregards the First Amendment and constitutes "an error of law." I find it unnecessary to address further Respondent Locals' argument as to this point. I am obliged to follow Board decisions; the union must address the Board regarding the validity of its definitions.

In their brief, Respondent Locals reassert their objection to a so-called relaxation of the rules of evidence during the hearing prompted by Respondent Locals' failure timely to produce subpoenaed documents. Respondent Locals have neither specified the evidence received under such relaxation to which they object nor stated in what way such evidence may have prejudiced them. Therefore, I overrule Respondent Locals' renewed objection.

B. Analysis

1. Equitable estoppel

The Board has recognized certain elements of equitable estoppel: "(1) lack of knowledge and the means to obtain knowledge of the true facts; (2) good-faith reliance on the misleading conduct of the party to be estopped; and (3) detriment or prejudice from such reliance." Intermountain Rural Electric Association, 309 NLRB 1189 fn 7 (1992). "[T]he key is that the estopped party, by its actions, has obtained a benefit." Red Coats, Inc., 328 NLRB No. 28, slip op. at 3 (1999). The above elements clearly do not exist so as to estop the General Counsel from prosecuting alleged violations of the Act regardless of what former positions the General Counsel may have taken. Further, as Counsel for the General Counsel points out, policy considerations dictate against estopping the General Counsel from prosecuting unfair labor practices. See K&E Bus Lines, Inc., 255 NLRB 1022, 1028 (1981). While I reject Respondent Locals' equitable estoppel defense, I have considered the opinions and case law set forth in the General Counsel's advice memoranda cited by Respondent Unions.

2. Application of 8(b)(4)(B)

The provisions of 8(b)(4(ii)(B) of the Act applicable to this case state that it shall be an unfair labor practice for a labor organization or its agents:

* * *

JD(SF)-30-03

(4)... (ii) to threaten, coerce, or restrain any person engaged in commerce or in an industry affecting commerce, where in either case an object thereof is--

5 ***

(B) forcing or requiring any person to cease using, selling, handling, transporting, or otherwise dealing in the products of any other producer, processor, or manufacturer, or to cease doing business with any other person, or forcing or requiring any other employer to recognize or bargain with a labor organization as the representative of his employees unless such labor organization has been certified as the representative of such employees under the provisions of section 159 of this title: Provided, That nothing contained in this clause (B) shall be construed to make unlawful, where not otherwise unlawful, any primary strike or primary picketing;

* * *

"... Provided further, That for the purposes of this paragraph (4) only, nothing contained in such paragraph shall be construed to prohibit publicity, other than picketing, for the purpose of truthfully advising the public, including consumers and members of a labor organization, that a product or products are produced by an employer with whom the labor organization has a primary dispute and are distributed by another employer, as long as such publicity does not have an effect of inducing any individual employed by any person other than the primary employer in the course of his employment to refuse to pick up, deliver, or transport any goods, or not to perform any services, at the establishment of the employer engaged in such distribution.

30

40

The above provisions are intended to shield neutrals from labor disputes that are not their own. They express "the dual congressional objectives of preserving the right of labor organizations to bring pressure to bear on offending employers in primary labor disputes and of shielding unoffending employers and others from pressures in controversies not their own." NLRB v. Denver Building Trades Council, 341 U.S. 675, 692 (1951). Their purpose is to "restrict the area of industrial conflict insofar as this could be achieved by prohibiting the most obvious, widespread, and...dangerous practice of unions to widen that conflict" and coerce employers unconcerned with the primary dispute. Carpenters Los Angeles County District Council Local 1976 v. NLRB, 357 U.S. 93, 100 (1958). For employers or persons to be unconcerned with the primary dispute does not mean "neutrals must be totally disengaged from a labor dispute to retain their neutrality. [footnote omitted]. That is not the law." Service Employees International Union, Local 525, AFL-CIO, 329 NLRB 638, 640 (1999). Thus, Respondent Unions' argument that the definition of labor dispute in Section 2(9) of the Act is broad enough to encompass its disputes with the neutrals impermissibly stretches the definition. The only "labor dispute" that Respondent Unions had with the neutrals was their objection to the neutrals doing business with a primary employer or with another neutral company doing business with a primary employer.

As stated by the Board, "...two elements [are] necessary to establish a violation of Section 8(b)(4)...(ii)(B) of the Act. First, a labor organization must engage in conduct...which threatens, coerces, or restrains any person. Further, [an] object of the foregoing conduct must be to force or require any person to cease dealing with or doing business with any other person." United Food and Commercial Workers Union Local 1776 (Carpenters Health & Welfare Fund, 334 NLRB No. 73, at slip op. 1 (2001). Respondent Unions' conduct must be measured against those two elements.

3. The conduct of Respondent Unions

15

20

In examining the first element necessary to establish a violation of Section 8(b)(4)(B) of the Act, it is helpful to categorize the conduct of Respondent Unions. Respondent Unions engaged in the same types of activity, i.e., bannering and handbilling, albeit with variations in sites and employers or persons targeted. Disposing of the latter activity first, there are no complaint allegations regarding the handbilling, and no party contends that any of the handbilling herein was, in itself, unlawful conduct. Rather, it is conceded that all handbilling constituted non-picketing communications, which activity is not a violation of the Act. DeBartolo II, supra, wherein the Supreme Court recognized the constitutional and statutory protection of handbill messages that "press the benefits of unionism to the community and the dangers of inadequate wages to the economy and the standard of living of the populace." Id., at 576. While evidence of investigation into the comparative labor costs of the primaries is somewhat sketchy. Respondent Unions appear to have had a reasonable belief that the primaries did not meet area standards. No party introduced evidence contradicting that belief. See Carpenters District Council of Detroit (The Douglas Company), 322 NLRB 612, fn2 (1996). Therefore, like those in DeBartolo II, the instant handbills truthfully detailed the existence of labor disputes with the primaries and urged handbill recipients to follow a "wholly legal course of action." Ibid. That the handbills may have been caustic or insulting is immaterial. See Service Employees Local 399 (Delta Air Lines), 293 NLRB 602 (1989).

30

40

45

The bannering is a different proposition. Counsel for the General Counsel concedes that traditional picketing involving individuals patrolling while carrying placards attached to sticks did not occur but argues, nonetheless, that Respondent Unions' activity was picketing. Certainly, the bannering has significant features akin to picketing: a visual message comprehensible at a glance and notice of a labor dispute. The fact that the banners were essentially fixed and not utilized in patrolling does not materially affect the function of the banner as a visually dramatic notice that the Respondent Unions had labor disputes with named business entities.²⁶ Patrolling with or without placards is not essential to a finding of picketing; the essential feature is placement of individuals at workplace entrances. Service Employees Local 87 (Trinity Maintenance), 312 NLRB 715, 743 (1993); Laborers Local 389 (Calcon Construction Co.), 287 NLRB 570, 573 (1987).

Respondent Mountain West Carpenters argues that its banners were not maintained "at entrances" of any neutral employer, standing instead between 24 and 750 feet away. However, none of Respondent Unions claims that the banners were not positioned so as to be easily visible to any customers, suppliers, or visitors to the neutral employers or that they were not situated so as to target specific employers or persons. Activity short of a traditional picket line

See Mine Workers District 29 (New Beckley Mining Corp.), 304 NLRB 71, 72 (1991), enfd.
 977 F.2d 1470 (D.C. Cir. 1992) where the Board stated that "activity...related to and in furtherance of [a] labor dispute" was an element "usually found in picketing."

that signals neutrals that "sympathetic action on their part is desired by the union" is regarded as "signal picketing." IBEW, Local 98 (The Telephone Man, Inc.), 327 NLRB 593, FN 3 (1999); Operating Engineers Local 12 (Hensel Phelps), 284 NLRB 246, 248 fn. 3 (1987). See also Mine Workers Local 1329 (Alpine Construction), 276 NLRB 415 (1985) (placing of banners on a fence post and stake was picketing.)²⁷

Respondent Unions also argue that the bannering cannot be considered picketing because no "confrontational" activity occurred at any of the bannering sites. However, confrontation in the sense of assertive or aggressive behavior is not a necessary element of picketing. The union in Local 254, *Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO (Women and Infants hospital et. al)*²⁸ contended that its carrying and wearing of signs while distributing leaflets was not picketing. There is no evidence that any "confrontational" behavior took place or that the carrying and wearing of signs was other than peaceful and unemphatic. Without considering the style of the picketing, the Board adopted the Administrative Law Judge's rejection of the union's argument and found a violation of Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the act "based on [the] direct evidence of a prohibited secondary objective [i.e. forcing the neutral hospital to cease doing business with the primary.]" Accordingly, guided by the Board's definitions, I conclude that the bannering herein constituted picketing. ²⁹

Identifying Respondent Unions' bannering as picketing removes the conduct from the purview of DeBartolo II, which dealt with peaceful distribution of handbills "without any accompanying picketing or patrolling." 485 U.S. at 571. The Court described picketing as "a mixture of conduct and communication" with the conduct ingredient "the most persuasive deterrent to...persons about to enter a business establishment." The Court noted that the "absence of picketing in the [DeBartolo II] case distinguishes it from Typographical Union No. 37 v. NLRB, 401 F.2d 952 (1968) enf'g 167 NLRB 1030 (1967) wherein the Board determined that handbilling as part of a consumer picketing campaign violated Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B). The Board has also accepted the distinction, observing in Service Employees Local 525 (General

²⁷ Understandably, some customers and employees of the neutrals viewed the bannering as picketing. Also, Anthony's cancelled work with Brady because of the "picketing," and the Teamsters Union cancelled a convention booking at the Islandia Hyatt because they declined to cross a "picket line."

²⁸ 324 NLRB 743 (1997).

²⁹ In his post-hearing brief, Counsel for the General Counsel states that Respondent Local 1506's banner displays in connection with the Sycuan Casino, Viejas Casino, and Invitrogen projects "do not rise to the level of picketing." Counsel does not explain his reasoning, but presumably makes the distinction based on the distance between the bannering sites and the projects. However, since the bannering was conducted at locations where customers, suppliers, and visitors must necessarily pass to reach the projects, the distance is insignificant as regards the bannering impact on neutral persons. Therefore, I find the bannering in connection with the Sycuan, Viejas, and Invitrogen projects to constitute picketing. Reliance on NLRB v. Fruit Packers Local 760 (Tree Fruits), 377 U.S. 58 (1964) or NLRB v. Retail Clerks Local 1001 (Safeco), 447 U.S. 607 (1980) is misplaced as those cases involve consumer picketing of struck products, an issue not present here. See Laborers International Union of North America, Local 332 (C.D.G.), 305 NLRB 298 (1991).

³⁰ 485 U.S. at 580, quoting from the concurring opinion in NLRB v. Retail Store Employees, 447 U.S. 607, 619 (1980).

Maintenance Co.), supra at fn 18, "[T]he Court in DeBartolo expressly distinguished the peaceful handbilling present in that case--which it found to be 'expressive' and lawful--from activity such as 'violence, picketing, or patrolling' (485 U.S. at 577) which it found to be a combination of conduct and communication more likely to be found coercive under the Act."

15

20

30

Attaching the label "picketing" to the bannering is not, however, dispositive of the question of lawfulness. Picketing is not a necessary element of a secondary bovcott. The language of 8(b)(4) does not define "threaten, coerce or restrain" in terms of specific conduct and does not mention picketing. The Court in DeBartolo II cautioned against giving "a broad sweep," to the words "threats, coercion, or restraints...[which] are nonspecific, indeed vague."31 The Board has specifically rejected the concept that "all picketing at a secondary site, no matter what the circumstances, is inherently coercive [i.e.] the Union picketed...a neutral employer, and therefore the Union restrained or coerced a neutral employer in violation of Section 8(b)(4)(B)." Carpenters Health & Welfare Fund, supra, at slip op. 3 (citations omitted). Rather. the Board said, "The issue of whether picketing is coercive must be determined on a case-bycase basis," Id at slip op. 1. Since "[p]icketing at the premises of a neutral, secondary employer...is not per se a violation of the Act...[t]he test for determining whether such picketing is lawful is the objective of the secondary activity, as gleaned from the surrounding circumstances." Id at slip op. 3. The lawfulness of a union's conduct is based on the intent behind the picketing rather than the effect of the picketing. See International Rice Milling Co. v. NLRB, 341 U.S. 665, 672 (1951) ("The substitution of violent coercion in place of peaceful persuasion would not in itself bring the complained-of conduct into conflict with 8(b)(4). It is the object of union encouragement that is proscribed by that section, rather than the means adopted to make it felt.") In Carpenters Health & Welfare Fund, supra, at slip op. 3, the Board approvingly cited the reasoning of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, "The question...is: Did the Union intend a more direct effect on [the neutral]? The statute makes the 'object thereof' the critical factor." Seafarers International Union v. NLRB, 265 F.2d 585, 591 (D.C. Cir. 1959). See also Carpenters District Council of Detroit (The Douglas Company), supra at 612, where jobsite picketing "engaged in solely for the lawful purpose of protesting [the primary's] failure to meet area standards," and which correctly identified both the purpose and the primary, did not have a "proscribed secondary object directed at [the neutral]" and thus did not violate 8(b)(4)(B). For the Board, "It is well settled that picketing (or other coercive conduct) violates Section 8(b)(4) if the object of it is to exert improper influence on a neutral party [citations omitted]." Mine Workers District 29 (New Beckley Mining Corp.), supra at 73.

35

45

In sum, the Act in pertinent part requires a cease-doing-business object as a footing for a violation of 8(b)(4)(B). The objective need not be "the sole object" of the conduct. Denver Building Trades Council, supra at 689. It is sufficient that a labor organization seeks to enmesh neutral employers in its dispute with a primary employer in the hope the neutral employers will use their influence with the primary employers to resolve the labor dispute in the union's favor. Service Employees Local 525 (General Maintenance Co.), supra at 641. It is crucial, therefore, to determine what the objects were of Respondent Unions' bannering. If Respondent Unions' bannering objective was solely to require primary employers to conform to prevailing area standards, a matter with which unions are understandably and legitimately concerned, no unlawful object was present. However, labor organizations may not threaten, coerce, and restrain persons covered by the Act under the pretext of protecting or advancing area labor standards. The determination of Respondent Unions' object is essentially one of evidence. Bearing in mind that the "inquiry must be based on the intent, rather than on the effects of the union's conduct [and that] the union's intent is measured as much by the necessary and foreseeable consequences of its conduct as by its stated objective," the "totality of circumstances" of Respondent Unions' bannering must be reviewed to determine whether the conduct was threatening, coercive, or restraining within the meaning of Section 8(b)(4)(B) of the Act. ³²

Although the bannering that took place herein was clearly a coordinated effort among separate organizations affiliated with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the circumstances as to each individual respondent differ. I have, therefore, examined the circumstances separately.

10

a. Respondent Local 1827

In August, UPS contracted with nonunion construction company Corsair. At all times relevant, Respondent Local 1827 was engaged in a dispute with Corsair but had no dispute with UPS. Shortly after Corsair commenced work, Respondent Local 1827 emailed UPS, stating that the Corsair contract was "a real slap in the face of...members..." that the union could not sit by during an "...economy ...downturn" while "a contractor paying...below area standards and using a large out of state work force..." performed the work, and that a banner display would result. Although the email mentioned Corsair's failure to meet area standards—presumably wages and benefits—the thrust of the message was that work had been given to a contractor that did not employ Respondent Local 1827's members. The union styled the contract award as a slap in the face of "members," and placed its objection to sub-area standard wages on the same level as the use of an out-of-state work force, a consideration unrelated to area standards.

25

35

Two days after sending the email, Respondent Local 1827 established banners at the UPS North building where Corsair performed no work and at the UPS South building at entrances from which Corsair was barred and which Corsair did not use. Although accompanying handbills correctly identified the union's dispute with Corsair and legitimately solicited customer pressure of UPS, the banners themselves identified only UPS as the targeted employer. Moreover, the handbilling appears to have been incidental to Respondent Locals' bannering. In its post-hearing brief, counsel for Respondent Locals stated that for the most part, individuals accompanying the banners, "did not actively seek to distribute handbills but did so only if someone approached and asked for one." It appears that the banners and not the handbills were the focal points of the union's activity. The conjunction of "SHAME ON UPS" and "LABOR DISPUTE" on the banners, without any limiting language, could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Local 1827 had a primary labor dispute with UPS and evidences secondary intent.³³ In fact, union representative, Mr. Kessler, affirmed just that when he told Mr. Newell, "We're tired of UPS doing this, hiring non-union employees."

40

After a few weeks of bannering, Respondent Local 1827 sent another email to UPS, promising to expand its "message" and expressing regret that such action must take place since "we have always been a part of your work force here in Las Vegas when UPS has expanded…" Again, the clear implication was that Respondent Local 1827 mainly objected to UPS' use of a nonunion contractor rather than to reduced area standards. The only way in which UPS could resolve Respondent Local 1827's grievances as expressed in both emails and in Mr. Kessler's statement to Mr. Newell would be for UPS to replace Corsair with a union-signatory contractor. The circumstances surrounding Respondent Local 1827's bannering—its centering its activity at locations identified with UPS rather than Corsair, its banner identification of UPS as focus of its labor dispute, and its related communications to UPS—all demonstrate that the main object of the bannering was to force the neutral UPS to cease doing business with the primary Corsair.

b. Respondent Local 1506

15

20

In January, Respondent Local 1506 representatives sought to interest E&K, AZ in signing a labor agreement. After E&K, AZ's refusal and at all times relevant, Respondent Local 1506 was engaged in a dispute with E&K, AZ but had no dispute with Griffin, Double AA, Artisan Homes, Harkins, Westpac, or Vanguard Health Systems. In August, Respondent Local 1506 sent letters to numerous contractors and businesses regarding the asserted failure of E&K, AZ to meet area standards. The union advised the companies to avoid a projected "aggressive public information campaign against E&K, AZ" by refusing to use or do business with E&K, AZ. As the letters stated, "...[Not allowing E&K, AZ to work on your projects] will provide the greatest protection against your firm becoming publicly involved in this dispute." Respondent Local 1506 did not suggest any method whereby A&K, AZ might satisfy the union that it met area standards on jobsites within the union's jurisdiction. It did not propose anything short of precluding A&K, AZ's presence on a jobsite to provide "the greatest protection."

Thereafter, when Respondent Local 1506 established banners at the following sites, it named only the following neutrals although the disputes admittedly involved only E&K, AZ.

	Neutral name on banner	Primary	Banner Site
	Artisan Homes	E&K, AZ	Artisan Homes Lofts Project
30	Harkins	E&K, AZ	Christown Theater (primary not present)
			North Valley Theater (primary not present)
			Harkins main offices (primary not present)
	Vanguard Health Systems	E&K, AZ	Phoenix Memorial Hosp (primary not present)
			Phoenix Baptist Hosp (primary not present)
35			Arrowhead Community Hosp (primary not present)

Mr. Brown of Artisan Homes complained to union representative, Mr. Cahill, that the union had never given him information on what the area standard wages were. Mr. Cahill's response that maybe he would give Mr. Brown a call, followed by inaction, suggests that raising area standards on the Artisan Homes Lofts Project was not of paramount concern, leaving a reasonable inference that some other object was. The remaining object could only have been the removal of E&K, AZ from the job, which was to be accomplished by pressure on Artisan Homes to put pressure on its general contractor, Westpac, to cease doing business with E&K, AZ. Such an inference is strengthened by Respondent Local 1506's refusal to move its bannering to the gate reserved for the primary when the gate was established on September 19. In that same month, Mr. Cahill refused to meet with E&K, AZ representative to discuss the handbill allegations, again suggesting that Respondent Local 1506's purpose was something more than resolving sub-area standards.

45

Although the accompanying handbills at each of the bannering sites correctly identified the union's dispute with E&K, AZ and legitimately solicited customer pressure of the neutral, the banners themselves identified only the neutrals as the targeted employers. The conjunction of

"SHAME ON [NEUTRAL PERSON]" and "LABOR DISPUTE" on the banners could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Local 1506 had labor disputes with the neutrals and evidences secondary intent. Further, the circumstances surrounding Respondent Local 1506's bannering— its centering its activities at locations identified with neutral companies rather than with A&K, AZ,³⁴ its banner identification of neutral companies as primary to its labor disputes, its related communications to the neutrals, and its refusal to discuss area standards—all demonstrate that the main object of the bannering was to force neutral companies to cease doing business with the primary, E&K, AZ.

During 2000 through 2003, Respondent Local 1506 admittedly had no dispute with Reno, Kilroy Realty, Morrison & Foerster, Peregrine, Prentiss, Diversa, Roel, Sempra, Sycuan Casino, Viejas Casino, Invitrogen, Anthony's, Hawkins, Sun Microsystems, Sundt, Grossmont Hospital, Sharp Hospital, Dillingham, Manchester Resorts, Doug Manchester, Grand Hyatt, Marriott, Hyatt Hotels Corporation, Hyatt Islandia, Clark, Chicken of the Sea, Prevost, or Westin Bonaventure. During that time, Respondent Local 1506 notified various construction companies that it had an area standards dispute with Brady. After giving notification of its dispute with Brady, Respondent Local 1506 established banners at the following sites, naming only the following neutrals, although the disputes admittedly involved only Brady:

20	Neutral name on banner	Primary	Banner Site
	Reno Contracting	Brady	Reno offices
25	Kilroy Realty Morrison & Foerster Peregrine Prentiss Properties	Brady	Valley Center Project

⁴⁵

³⁴ Picketing when the primary employer's employees are not present is evidence of a secondary object. Service Employees Local 87 (Trinity Maintenance), supra at 747 and cases cited therein.

Respondent Local 1506 made clear its object in the Brady-related bannering in early 2002 when Mr. McCarron met with Scott Brady and asked him to consider collective bargaining negotiations with the Carpenters, as a contract with the union would bring relief from the bannering. Even without Mr. McCarron's bargaining solicitation, Respondent Local1506 left little doubt as to what its objective was by Mr. Thornhill's communication to Mr. Dealy during the Grand Hyatt-related bannering that if Manchester replaced Brady with a union contractor the banners would immediately go away. The inescapable inference to be drawn from Mr. Thornhill and Mr. Dealy's exchange is that Respondent Local 1506 was doing more than trying to promote area standards; it was pressuring the neutral Manchester to pressure the neutral Clark to cease doing business with the primary Brady. That inference is only reinforced by Respondent Local 1506's involvement of Hyatt Islandia, a company wholly unassociated with the dispute, and by its continued bannering at the Valley Center Project, the Diversa project, the Sempra project, the Sycuan Casino project, and the Viejas Casino project after Brady had concluded its work and left the jobsites.

Although the handbills at each of the bannering sites named above correctly identified the union's dispute with the primary, Brady, and legitimately solicited customer pressure of the neutrals, the banners themselves identified only the neutrals as the targeted employers. The conjunction of "SHAME ON [NEUTRAL PERSON]" and "LABOR DISPUTE" on the banners could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Local 1506 had labor disputes with the neutrals and evidences secondary intent. Further, the circumstances surrounding Respondent Local 1506's bannering—its activity at neutral locations rather than where the primary was performing work, its banner identification of neutrals as primary to its labor disputes, and its communications to neutrals—all demonstrate that the main object of the bannering was, through either direct or indirect pressure, to compel neutrals employers or persons to cease doing business with Brady.

In 2002, Respondent Local 1506 had no dispute with the Westin Bonaventure. Nevertheless it established banners at two street corners near the hotel, naming only the neutral Westin Bonaventure although the dispute admittedly involved just the primary, Precision.

Although Westin Bonaventure requested by letter that Respondent Local 1506 stop "picketing and leafleting" and later informed the union that Precision had concluded its work at the hotel and was no longer present, Respondent Local 1506 made no response and continued bannering. Although the handbills at Westin Bonaventure correctly identified the union's dispute with the primary, Precision, and legitimately solicited customer pressure of Westin Bonaventure, the banners themselves identified only Westin Bonaventure as the targeted employer. The conjunction of "SHAME ON WESTIN BONAVENTURE" and "LABOR DISPUTE" on the banners could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Local 1506's labor dispute was with Westin Bonaventure and evidences secondary intent. That, as well as Respondent Local 1506's continued bannering of Westin Bonaventure after Precision had concluded its work and left the jobsite, demonstrates that the main object of the bannering was to compel Westin Bonaventure to cease doing business with Precision.

c. Respondent Local 209

Respondent Local 209 had a dispute with Cuthers but not with Taira, Thermal, or King's Hawaiian. Respondent Local 209 did not banner at the jobsite where Cuthers performed work for Thermal but bannered at King's Hawaiian Restaurant and Bakery.

JD(SF)-30-03

The handbills at King's Hawaiian Restaurant and Bakery correctly identified Cuthers as the company with whom Respondent Local 209 had a dispute, but the banner identified only King's Hawaiian as the targeted employer. The conjunction of "SHAME ON KING'S HAWAIIAN and "LABOR DISPUTE" on the banners could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Local 209 had a labor dispute with that neutral company and evidences secondary intent.

d. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters

At all times relevant, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters was engaged in a labor dispute with E&K, Denver but had no dispute with State Farm, Holder, CU, Hensel-Phelps, Legacy, or J.E. Dunn. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters informed various neutral companies and persons of its dispute, stating the basis as E&K, Denver's failure to meet area labor standards and requesting the neutrals to exercise managerial discretion to prevent E&K, Denver from performing work on any of their projects "unless and until it generally meets area labor standards for all of its carpentry craft work." In that notification and in the accompanying announcement that a publicity campaign of bannering and handbilling would ensue, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters was only exercising its lawful right to inform others of its intention to protect area labor standards. Similarly, handbills distributed at each bannering site correctly and lawfully described Respondent Mountain West Carpenters' dispute with E&K, Denver. If that were the extent of the union's conduct, there would be little reason for supposing that Respondent Mountain West Carpenters had any cease-doing-business objective in its campaign against E&K, Denver. Conduct "aimed at forcing an employer, which in fact pays substandard wages, to conform to area standards...is lawful unless there is independent evidence to controvert the Union's overt representations of its objective." Local Union No. 741. United Association of Journeyman (Keith Riggs Plumbing and Heating Contractor), 137 NLRB 1125, 1126 (1962). The banners displayed by Respondent Mountain West Carpenters at each of the bannering sites provide just such independent evidence.

The banners displayed by Respondent Mountain West Carpenters identified only the neutrals as the union's targets. Except for the State Farm banner, the banners included the words "LABOR DISPUTE." The conjunction of "LABOR DISPUTE" with the names of neutral employers or persons could only have conveyed the message that Respondent Mountain West Carpenters had labor disputes with the named neutrals and evidences secondary intent. Further, Respondent Mountain West Carpenters established banners targeting the neutrals at locations far from the sites where the primary, A&K, Denver, was working. The wording on the banners and the positioning of the banners at locations where only the neutrals were present evidence an intent to enmesh neutral employers or persons in the union's dispute with the primary employer. Respondent Mountain West Carpenters' conduct demonstrates that the main object of its bannering was, through either direct or indirect pressure, to compel neutrals to cease doing business with the primary, E&K, Denver.

³⁵ This analysis holds true as to Respondent Mountain West Carpenters' bannering of State Farm. Although that banner did not include the words "labor dispute," the State Farm bannering was part and parcel of Respondent Mountain West's overall plan of attack against E&K, Denver, the circumstances of which are sufficient to show Respondent's secondary intent.

e. Respondent Unions

Considering the circumstances of Respondent Unions' bannering overall, as set forth above, I find that notwithstanding the use of banners in place of traditional picket signs, the bannering conduct constituted picketing. I further conclude that Respondent Unions' intents and 5 purposes in bannering were secondary. I base my conclusion, in the cases relating to Respondent Locals, on the statements and communications made prior to and contemporaneous with the bannering, and in all the cases on the circumstances of the bannering itself. The only message the banners could reasonably have conveyed to viewers, including customers, suppliers, and visitors of the targeted employers or persons, was that 10 Respondent Unions had primary labor disputes with the neutrals named on the banners. It does not matter that inferences drawn by those who viewed the banners might be inaccurate as to the target and nature of the dispute. Respondent Unions must have foreseen that misconceptions would be the consequence of their bannering, and their failure to guard against. indeed their fostering of, such misconceptions further evidences secondary intent. The 15 explanatory handbills do not vitiate the impact of the banners. Banners were placed "to provide the greatest visibility to passing traffic and the general public," few of whom, presumably, would take a handbill. Further, Respondent Locals, "did not actively seek to distribute handbills but did so only if someone approached and asked for one." Given the placement of the banners facing busy streets and Respondent Unions' constrained distribution of the handbills, it is reasonable 20 to conclude that most banner viewers did not, and were not intended to, read the handbills. It seems clear that the bannering, with its secondary message, was not merely incidental to the lawful handbilling; rather, the handbilling was incidental to the secondary message, the implicit purpose of which was to enmesh neutrals in primary disputes. The evidence, therefore, establishes that in each instance of bannering. Respondent Unions had the intent and purpose 25 of causing the targeted neutral employers or persons so much discomfiture through customer, supplier, or visitor complaints, inquiries, criticism, or withheld business that the neutral employers or persons would either cease doing business with the primary employers or influence other neutral employers or persons to cease doing business with the primary employers. Accordingly, I find that Respondent Unions' above-described bannering conduct 30 with its unlawful objects, in each instance, violates Section 8(b)(4)(ii)(B) of the Act.

5. Respondent Unions shall each take the following affirmative action necessary to effectuate the policies of the Act.

30

Within 14 days after service by the Region, each Respondent Union shall post at its Union offices copies of the pertinent attached notice marked, respectively, "Appendices A, B, C, and D."³⁷ Copies of the notice, on forms provided by the Regional Director for Region 28, after being signed by each Respondent Union's authorized representative, shall be posted by each Respondent Union immediately upon receipt and maintained for 60 consecutive days in conspicuous places including all places where notices to members are customarily posted. Reasonable steps shall be taken by each Respondent Union to ensure that the notices are not altered, defaced, or covered by any other material. In the event that, during the pendency of these proceedings, any Respondent Union has gone out of business or closed its offices, the Respondent Union shall duplicate and mail, at its own expense, a copy of the notice to all current members and former members of the Respondent Union at any time since the Respondent Union commenced its unlawful picketing described above.

40

Sign and return to the Regional Director sufficient copies of the notice for posting by the pertinent employers and persons named above if willing, at all places where notices to employees are customarily posted.

45

³⁷ If this Order is enforced by a Judgment of the United States Court of Appeals, the words in the notice reading "POSTED BY ORDER OF THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD" shall read "POSTED PURSUANT TO A JUDGMENT OF THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS ENFORCING AN ORDER OF THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD."

Within 21 days after service by the Region, file with the Regional Director a sworn certification of a responsible official on a form provided by the Region attesting to the steps that Respondent Union has taken to comply.
